Maneki COLLECTION

Irreverent statues inspired by lucky cats in Japanese tradition

MANEKI

Collection

Decorative Sculptures and Teapots in Resin and Ceramic

The Maneki Collection is a bold and contemporary reinterpretation of the iconic Japanese lucky cat, the Maneki Neko. Comprising matte resin sculptures and glazed ceramic teapots, the series stands out for its provocative style, vibrant colors, and strong decorative appeal.

Maneki “LUCK” – Resin Statues

These statues offer a satirical and rebellious twist on the traditional good-luck gesture: the cat, with a fierce expression, raises its middle finger, while still holding the classic “LUCK” plaque in one paw. Crafted in matte resin, they are perfect for adding an ironic and edgy touch to any modern space — from a creative studio to an unconventional living room.

Maneki “RICH” – Ceramic Teapots

The collection also features glazed ceramic teapots in a zoomorphic shape: a stylized cat with a cheerful, serene look, holding a “RICH” (wealth) plaque. The head functions as the lid, while the raised paw becomes a sleek spout. A perfect blend of functionality and decorative design, ideal as a collectible piece or as a gift with an oriental and pop spirit. The Maneki Collection playfully celebrates symbols of luck and prosperity, transforming them into provocatively designed objects that catch the eye and spark conversation. The fusion of Eastern tradition and contemporary urban language makes each piece a small work of art.
